PRINCETON DEFENSE

SHOWED POOR FORM Coaches Disappointed at Poor Work of Tiger Team Against Dartmouth.

Princeton beat Dartmouth on Sat-urday, but little satisfaction is taken by the coaches on that account. The Tigers were played to a standstill by a team which was supposed to have a light, weak line, and only an average backfield. In no game this season has Princeton showed a strong offence, but until Saturday her de-fence was almost perfect.

The strong, hard-running Greenhacks, however, did not seem to have much difficulty in piercing the supposedly impregnable line for substantial, sustained gains. The Dartmouth interference was the best seen here this season, and every Princeton end knew how it felt to be boxed yesterday.

ACTIVE BROAD MARKET Certain Speculative Specialties Advanced to New Records.

New York, Nov. 1.—During the greater part of the active and broad market today trading manifested no pronounced trend aside from further pronounced trend aside from further advances to new maximums of certain speculative specialties, mainly those comprising the paper, leather and metal groups. Standard issues pursued a narrow and frequently irregular course, the monotony of the movement being relieved by occasional advances in munitions and equipments. ments.

In the final hour an urgent demand for U. S. Steel which had been little more than firm, carried the entire list to highest levels of the session. Steel changed hands in individual lots of one thousand to 8,000 shares up to 121, a gain of 2 1-8 points, and within 3-4 of a point of its record quotation.

Munitions were featured by Crucible Steel, which rose 5 5-8 to 95; equipments, Baldwin and American Locomotives at gains of 6 7-8 and 3 respectively. Industrial Alcohol, ranking as a semi-war issue rose 6 1-2 and as a semi-war issue, rose 6 1-2 and Butte and Superior advanced four Long training trips in the south faction of the American League executive over the preponderance of National League representatives upon the National Commission was nothing new but that Johnson had not up to the present time shown any indication of adopting radical measures to change the balance of power.

completed, Captain Koenig, who returned with five decorations from German royalty as marks of recognition for his pioneer voyage, said this was "a quiet 'trip." Recital of its incidents however, developed matters of lively interest.

Dodged Beneath Warhips.

The Deutschland did not lay on the ocean floor this time as in the voyage which ended at Baltimore last July. The submarine instead varied the monotony of its sailing under water or on the surface with occasional delay. on the surface with occasional dodges beneath vessels identified as war-ships of belligerent nationality, or or thought to be. Seven times, Captain Koenig said, he manoeuvre in this way. The last time was off Nantucket yesterday, when he sighted a "four funneled steamer" and dove beneath her.

Storms Caused Trouble.

"The storms gave us more trouble than this so-called blockade" he continued. "We were beset by heavy southwest gales for days and they were with us most of the way across. Fog also hindered us. We might as well have been submerged the weather was so thick at times." The superstructure of the Leutschland was perstructure of the Deutschland was dented by the blows of the seas, but she suffered no severe damage, her commander said.

Collided With a Tug. Leaving Bremen on October 1, the Deutschland had moved only a short distance out of the harbor when she came in collision with a tug "which was so foolish as to run into us," said Captain Koenig. The Deutschland was forced to return for repairs.

Engines Were Run Continuously.

The venture was begun again on October 10th and the engines after being started on that day were not stopped until the Deutschland came into the limit brepared for her here.

"A heavy southwest gale was on when we went through the North Sea, crossing between Scotland and the Orkney Islands in the Fair Channel. I took the shortest course on the chart for New London.
"The blockading ships were many, but we passed them or rather went under them. The storb followed us and we were tossed many hours.

Retarded By Storm. Captain Koenig said the Deutschland was kept under way on the sur-face during most of the disturbance, but at times he had her submerged and under water she "moved up and down easily with the seas." So selown easily with the seas." So se-vere was the storm that at times the submarine made a only a mile an hour, headway. In all she was delayed three days, her captain figured, and

Coach Tad Jones of the Yale foot-

Coach Tad Jones of the Yale football eleven is being praised from all sides for the brilliant showing of the Elis this season. Joe Vila, a Gotham expert, claims Yale has the best team since 1909. The showing of the Blue in the Washington-Jefferson game, according to Vila, vindicates Coach Jones' coaching methods. He says: "Tad Jones, Yale's mentor, saw his methods carried out to the letter in the tussle with Washington and Jefferson on Saturday. If Jones had kept ferson on Saturday. If Jones had kept ferson on Saturday. If Jones had kept the Yale regulars on the gridiron for the full distance, his triumph probably would have been more impressive. The Washington and Jefferson players scored two touchdowns as a result of splendid forward passes, but 30 of Yale's 36 points were made before the second period ended. In upsetting this method of attack, the Yale team displayed some weakness, but there is no loubt that Jones will remedy the dedoubt that Jones will remedy the defect before the game at Princeton on Nov. 18. Yale has the best eleven since 1909. There is no doubt about it. Jones has progressed rapidly in making use of the material on hand, and Yales' future on the gridiron seems to be unusually bright. But Yale can improve considerably. Next Yale can improve considerably. Next Saturday's affair with the formidable Colgat eteam will provide another te-

A cursory examination of the sub-marine by Collector James L. Mc-Govern today developed nothing, he said, that would conflict with her classification as a merchantman. The fact that the Deutschland was oflicially classed as such at Baltimore will have no bearing on her standing at the present time, it was said.

Visit of Inspection Today. Accordingly, Commander Yates Stirling of the naval station here, at the request of customs officials, ex-pects to make a visit of inspection to-morrow. Captain Koenig said the only weapon aboard, as on his previ-ous visit, was a revolver which he Reports of a conflict between the Deutschland's officers and the naval officers at this port over dismantlement of the submarines wireless appartus in keeping with the government's neutrality regulations were denied both by Captain Koenig and Commander Stirling. "The wireless of the Deutchland is sealed," the latter said. As a possible explanation of the reports, he advanced the statement that Leutenant Briggs one of his sides had yone

The Deutschland tonight, as during the day, was shrouded in strictest se-crecy. The walls of the shed which houses her return cargo, supposed to be rubber and nickel, form a protection at two sides. A fence surmounting a pontoon shuts off the entrance to the Thames River and on the fourth side the North German Lloyd steamship Willehad acts at the same time as a barrier and as a home for the Deutschland's crew. Only a guard on the decks remained aboard the submarine tonight. Captain Koenig and his 28 men having removed their effects to the roomier steamship.

Believes War Will Last Another Year. Describing a visit to the German army headquartrs on the east front, where he was the guest of the kalser at dinner, Captain Koenig said he found the emperor in good health, "a little white and drawn but not at all weak." He fould the German people during his stay, he said, believing the war would last another year at least. From the emperor, the Deutsch-land's captain received the knighthood cross of the Order of Hohenzollern; from the king of Bayaria the Order of St. Michael: from the king of Wurttemberg the knighthood cross of Wurt-temberg Crown and rulers of two minor German states crosses of honor.

German Attache in New London Dr. George Ahrens, an attache of the German embassy, same here tonight, he said to congratulate Captain Koenig on his return to these shores. He was forced to delay his greetings when he learned that the navigator was in bed. Ambassador Bernstorii intends coming here early next week, the attache stated.
